Salesforce developer at Britenet, certified Salesforce Platform Developer I, with a full-stack background in Python, Java / Spring Boot and React / TypeScript.

I build and run things end to end: Apex, LWC and Sales Cloud at work; a self-hosted homelab (Docker, Jenkins, xCaddy, Tailscale, Authentik, Grafana) after hours; and Waydo — a production road-trip planner with a paid tier, an Android client and its own MCP server. Currently doing a part-time MSc in Computer Science at PJATK Warsaw.

Projects

Waydo — road trip planner

2025 – Present

React, TypeScript, FastAPI, MariaDB, Google Maps, Stripe, React Native (Expo).

- Plans trips day by day: routes and driving times recalculate when a day changes, and each day starts where the previous one ended
- Multi-modal legs — car, train, plane and ferry; sea routes follow real shipping lanes
- Contextual hotel and stop suggestions along the route, shareable links, premium subscriptions
- Ships its own MCP server, so a whole trip can be edited from an AI client
- Android client in beta (React Native / Expo)

PortfolioAPI

Feb 2025 – Present

Spring Boot, Hibernate, MariaDB, REST, JUnit, Mockito.

Turns GitHub repositories into a headless CMS: project descriptions are read straight from the profile and configured per repository with a meta.json file, so the portfolio no longer needs a code change per project. Covered by unit and integration tests.
